LossBoss Creator Partner Agreement

This agreement is between Ingenuity Labs LLC, maker of the LossBoss app, and [Creator Name].

By accepting this agreement, the creator agrees to the terms below.

1. Deal Terms

The creator will receive:

- Commission Rate: 50% of the net store revenue from each new subscriber's first paid transaction
- How Often: Once per new subscriber. Renewals and later payments earn nothing.
- Payout Schedule: Monthly, after a 30-day refund hold
- Payout Method: PayPal or Wise
- Referral Link: Provided by Ingenuity Labs LLC

Commission is calculated from net store revenue: revenue actually received by Ingenuity Labs LLC after App Store fees, taxes, refunds, chargebacks, discounts, and currency conversion fees where applicable.

2. Commission Rules

Commission is earned once, on the first paid transaction of someone who becomes a paid subscriber through the creator's referral link. Ingenuity Labs LLC's tracking systems determine attribution and commissions.

No commission is earned from:

- free trials that do not convert to a paid subscription;
- renewals or any later payment from the same subscriber, including after they resubscribe;
- refunded payments, which are deducted from commission;
- chargebacks;
- fake or duplicate accounts;
- fraudulent traffic;
- users who cannot reasonably be attributed to the creator's referral link.

3. Payouts

Payouts are made monthly. Each sale is held for 30 days so refunds can be accounted for, and is paid in the first monthly payout after the hold ends. A refund received after payment may be deducted from a later payout.

The dashboard shows estimates. Final amounts are based on what Apple actually pays.

The creator is responsible for providing correct payout information.

The creator is responsible for any taxes, reporting, or legal obligations related to their earnings, and agrees to provide any tax form Ingenuity Labs LLC reasonably requests before payment.

4. Promotion Rules

When promoting LossBoss, the creator must clearly disclose their paid relationship with Ingenuity Labs LLC and follow all applicable advertising, endorsement, consumer protection, and platform rules, including the US Federal Trade Commission's Endorsement Guides. Disclosures must be clear and easy for the audience to notice.

LossBoss is a coaching and tracking app, not medical care. The creator agrees not to make false, misleading, or exaggerated claims, including:

- that LossBoss guarantees weight loss or any specific result;
- that people will lose a stated amount of weight in a stated time;
- that LossBoss treats, cures, or prevents any disease or replaces a doctor;
- personal results presented as typical when they are not.

The creator must not shame anyone for their body, must not promote unsafe eating or extreme restriction, and must not direct content at people under 18.

The creator must not bid on LossBoss brand terms in paid search, use spam, or buy fake clicks or installs.

The creator is responsible for any violation caused by their failure to follow applicable laws, disclosure requirements, or platform rules.

5. Content Usage

The creator gives Ingenuity Labs LLC permission to use, repost, download, edit, and share any LossBoss-related content the creator publishes, including videos, images, captions, and screenshots.

Ingenuity Labs LLC may use this content organically and in paid ads on its own accounts, website, App Store pages, email, and marketing channels, with credit to the creator where practical.

The creator confirms their content does not include music, images, videos, or other materials they do not have the right to use for promotional purposes.

6. Ending the Partnership

Either Ingenuity Labs LLC or the creator may end the partnership at any time.

The creator may still receive approved unpaid commissions earned before the partnership ended, unless those commissions are connected to refunds, chargebacks, fraud, misleading promotion, or violation of this agreement.

Ingenuity Labs LLC may deactivate the creator's referral link if the partnership ends or if these terms are violated.

7. Governing Law and Contact

This agreement is governed by the laws of the United States and the state in which Ingenuity Labs LLC is organized.

Questions about this agreement go to ethan@ingenuitylabs.net.
